

Barkley Rules Senate May Curb Filibuster

Two-Thirds Vote Needed To Bar Debate

Washington, March 10—(AP)—Vice President Barkley ruled tonight that two-thirds of those voting can break the present Senate filibuster if they wish.

This was an important preliminary victory for the Truman administration in its effort to cut short the Dixie filibuster and pass civil rights legislation. But other, more difficult tests lay ahead.

First, the Truman administration must corral a majority of the Senators present to uphold Barkley's ruling. Then, to clamp any actual limit on debate, a two-thirds vote of those present would be required.

Lucas Files Closure Petition
Barkley's ruling was made after Senator Lucas of Illinois, the Democrat leader, moved to clamp down on the filibusters. Lucas filed a closure (debate-limiting) petition, signed by himself, 16 other Democrats and 16 Republicans.

The question was whether, under the present Senate rules, the petition could legally be entertained. Senator Russell (D-Ga.), chief general of the southerners, argued that it could not.

Russell said there was nothing in the Senate rules to stop Senators from talking on a motion, though they could be curbed on legislation. And the question before the Senate was a motion to consider the chair does not feel the precedents are binding upon the chair at this time," he said.

But Lucas argued that Russell was all wrong. He said the parliamentary situation was different now that it was last session when Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.), then presiding, ruled that debate could not be limited.

Barkley Sides With Lucas
Barkley, reading a lengthy decision, sided with Lucas.

He said that a motion to proceed, or take up a measure, is an "absolutely indispensable process" in the work of the Senate.

He called it "just as indispensable" as actual action on a bill. After explanations of four previous decisions with regard to debate limitation petitions, Barkley ruled them out as "precedents" for his decision.

He said the rulings—made in 1917, 1927, 1946 and 1948—applied to situations different from the one he was confronting. "Therefore the chair does not feel the precedents are binding upon the chair at this time," he said.

In all of the other previous rulings there were other measures before the Senate, Barkley noted, but he said, there is now only a "bald, stark, uncomplicated motion pending."

He observed that he had read much Senate debate as well as law dictionaries and court decisions "for help."

Wants Someone Big To Catch 500-Lb. Turtle In Lake

Churubusco, Ind., March 10—(AP)—If Paul Bunyan were still around and equipped for amphibious operations, he could add another chapter to his exploits by going after the turtle of Pulks lake.

Apparently it will take a man of the legendary woodsman's stature and imagination to capture the huge reptile. Gale Harris' attempts to trap it today were futile.

Harris, who owns the lake, has seen the turtle. It's as big as a dining room table and weighs 500 pounds, he says. His brother-in-law, Ole Blue and Charlie Wilson, have seen it too.

Harris actually has had his hand on the leviathan. He says he tried to catch it by the tail some time ago, but the tail was too big for his hand to go around. The turtle got away, almost capsizing his boat.

Paul Bunyan, who used 150-foot trees for toothpicks, might have been able to hold on.

Man Charged With Robbing Bookies

Chicago, March 10—(AP)—Thomas Meehan, 28, whom police accuse of obtaining from $50,000 to $100,000 by robbing handbook betting parlors, was held to the grand jury today on a robbery charge.

Judge William V. Daly of Felony Court set bond at $3,000.

USSR Plans To Spend More On Arms In 1949

Moscow, March 10—(AP)—Finance Minister A. G. Zverev told parliament tonight the Soviet Union plans to spend almost 20 per cent more on her armed forces this year than last.

The new figure is 79,000,000,000 rubles, a total which is the equivalent of $15,000,000,000 by the Russians' official yardstick.

Speaking before Prime Minister Stalin, first deputy Prime Minister V. M. Molotov and other top leaders in the great hall of the Kremlin, Zverev announced the largest budget in Russian history.

It provides for revenues of 445,208,000,000 rubles during the current calendar year and expenditures of 415,355,000,000. Thus the Russians plan to have a budgetary surplus of nearly 30,000,000,000 rubles.

The corresponding figures for 1948 were: revenues, 408,400,000,000 rubles; expenditures, 368,800,000,000; surplus, 39,600,000,000.

Zverev revealed that the government spent 66,000,000,000 rubles on Soviet armed forces in 1948.

(There is no free market to determine the value of the ruble in international exchange. An official rate imposed by the Russians gives the ruble an exchange value of about 19 cents.)

Zverev told parliament, (the Supreme Soviet) that much of the increase in expenditures for the armed forces accounted for by higher union's "policy of world peace" will continue, he declared.

The finance minister delivered a sharp attack on the United States, blaming America for the present troubled international situation. United States military expenditures in this year's budget are 15 times higher than they were in 1937, Zverev said. He also criticized Britain for increasing military expenditures.

(A budget proposing total expenditures of $41,858,000,000, including $13,300,000,000 for defense, is pending in the United States congress. Britain's defense budget of $3,039,000,000 the largest since post-war demobilization, has been approved by the House of Commons.)

Any efforts to put a money figure on the pact are "misleading," the department said in a statement. It sought to distinguish between the treaty and the program of arms aid to non-communist allies which is now being drafted.

Michael J. McDermott, department press officer, said the treaty "stands on its own feet." Military assistance legislation will be separate but probably will go to congress about the same time, he said.

While the issues are related, they will require different lines of congressional action, he explained.

Wants To Build Rocket To Carry Man 25 Miles Up

Chicago, March 10—(AP)—Science has sent Rockets zooming high into the earth's atmosphere, but a Chicago researcher hopes to make it possible for man to go along.

He is Eugene A. Maynor, a Rocket enthusiast for many years and former Navy officer who worked with Rocket engines.

In his proposed Rocket a man can shoot 25 miles or more straight up, then glide safely back to earth. Maynor met tonight with prospective financial backers. The meeting, he said is for the purpose of raising money to construct and test the space ship before the end of this year, possibly by late summer.

His Rocket plane design is for a ship about 30 feet long with a wing span of 24 feet.

A vertical takeoff, Maynor says, could be made from a barge in Lake Michigan. When the fuel was exhausted, the pilot could disengage the Rocket motors and glide to a landing on the lake.

Maynor said he already has constructed and tested a model Rocket motor which burns nitric acid and fufuryl alcohol.

CHURCH DENOUNCES YUGOS

Rome, March 10—(AP)—The Episcopal Diocese of Trieste has denounced Yugoslav military authorities for allegedly violating religious freedoms in Yugoslav-occupied territory of Trieste, the Italian news agency Astra said today.

The United States voiced its new demand on the Dutch in the Security Council after hearing a Dutch representative say his government has refused to restore the Indonesian republic to authority because it feared violence and chaos would result.

The council took up the Indonesian case again for the first time after setting up a plan for a settlement in a resolution approved Jan. 28.

Delegates told the council the situation has not improved. They are seeking some way out of the Dutch-Indonesian republic deadlock.

Dr. J. H. Van Royen, Dutch ambassador to Canada and representative here in the Indonesian debate, told the delegates his government has given freedom to the top officials of the Indonesian republic. They have been held on the island of Bangka.

Brig. Gen. Carlos P. Romulo of the Philippines, who attacked the Dutch for not carrying out the January resolution, said in the council said.

The extensive guerrilla warfare now being carried on in Indonesia is the direct consequence of the Netherlands' abandoning negotiations in favor of military action," Austin said.

Warren R. Austin, chief American delegate, said the U. S. is unable to understand why the Netherlands cannot restore the republic to authority.

"The extensive guerrilla warfare now being carried on in Indonesia is the direct consequence of the Netherlands' abandoning negotiations in favor of military action," Austin said.

Also to be voted on is a $13,000,000 bond issue for sewer repairs and extensions.

Springfield, Ill., March 10—(AP)—The Illinois revenue laws commission today urged major changes in tax assessment methods and repeal of local taxes on capital stock of domestic corporations.

The commission recommended retention of the statewide 100 percent property assessment laws but said some revisions should be made to meet taxpayers' complaints.

In a partial report on its 18-month study of tax problems, the legislative group called for:

Indict American Girl, Russian For Espionage

New York, March 10—(AP)—A young woman government worker and a Russian engineer were indicted on espionage charges today.

A special grand jury probing spy activities returned a four-count indictment against the pair, Brooklyn-born Judith Coplon and Valentin A. Gubitchev, Soviet engineer employed by the United Nations. The 27-year-old Miss Coplon is an analyst for the department of justice in Washington.

Arraignment was set for tomorrow. Thomas J. Donegan, special assistant to the attorney general, said he would press for an early trial.

FBI agents seized the two last Friday night after stalking them to a rendezvous through New York City streets. They said Miss Coplon planned to turn over to Gubitchev copies of government documents taken from the Justice department's security section. The documents were found in her purse, the FBI said.

The indictment also referred to two previous meetings of the accused spies, one alleged to have occurred Jan. 14 and the other Feb. 18.

One count of the indictment said Miss Coplon "did attempt to communicate, deliver, and transmit" to Gubitchev documents "relating to the national defense." It said the documents contained intelligence reports dealing with espionage and counter-espionage activities in this country.

Gubitchev was suspended from his U.N. post following his arrest. Officials of the world organization said he did not have diplomatic immunity, a claim disputed by the Soviet government which has unsuccessfully demanded his release.

Miss Coplon, an honor graduate of Barnard College, would be liable to a maximum prison sentence of 35 years and a $20,000 fine if convicted. The maximum penalty for Gubitchev would be 15 years' imprisonment and a $20,000 fine.

Asks Many Changes Be Made In State Tax Assessments

Springfield, Ill., March 10—(AP)—The Illinois revenue laws commission today urged major changes in tax assessment methods and repeal of local taxes on capital stock of domestic corporations.

The commission recommended retention of the statewide 100 percent property assessment laws but said some revisions should be made to meet taxpayers' complaints.

In a partial report on its 18-month study of tax problems, the legislative group called for:

1. An additional state franchise tax of one percent on net income of domestic and foreign corporation business in Illinois.

2. Creation of a single office in 100 downstate counties to supervise property assessments and bring about equality.

3. A one percent privilege tax on net income of banks, to be administered by the state revenue department.

4. Allowing taxpayers an opportunity to object to the multiplier determined by the revenue department in raising local assessments to full value.

5. A requirement that the state furnish county clerks with a list of automobile registrations so all vehicles will be included in personal property assessments.

Accidents Occur Fast And Furious In Tingo, Peru

Arequipa, Peru, March 10—(AP)—Things were certainly in a mess today in Tingo.

The train from nearby Arequipa bound for Mollendo hit a man and killed him.

Then two runaway flat cars and a cargo wagon from the Arequipa station hit a truck at the Tingo rail crossing and killed seven Jackasses.

Parts of the truck hit a house and demolished it.

The runaway cars crashed against a police station. Injured were one sergeant, one corporal and two ordinary cops.

The horses in the artillery regiment stationed at Tingo heard the ruckus, stampeded through the streets and trampled several pedestrians.

National Bus Lines Present Arguments In Anti-Trust Suit

Chicago, March 10—(AP)—A parade of defense attorneys today asserted that their clients did not conspire with the National City Lines to restrain trade.

The attorneys were presenting their final arguments to a federal court jury in the trial of National City and 14 co-defendants charged with anti-trust law violations. The government concluded its argument yesterday, and the case is expected to go to the 12-woman jury sometime tomorrow.

Templeton Brown, counsel for Standard Oil of California, for the Federal Engineering Company of California, and for Henry C. Judt, treasurer of Standard of California, was the first to speak at the afternoon session.

Brown contended that Standard entered no contract for supplies to the Pacific City Lines, an NCL subsidiary, in 1930. But two years later "when the clouds of war and the war itself made the supply situation abnormal, PCL came to us and asked for supply contracts," Brown said.

Stinebower, carrying his briefcase and obviously agitated, told reporters Thorne would not stop the insults against Hodge and "so we just walked out."

Stinebower went back to the table after Katz-Suchy finished.

Thorne told the delegates he hoped this kind of talk would not be repeated in the future. Katz-Suchy replied that the language was the kind usually used. He said he was surprised at the show of feelings by the United States delegate who, Katz-Suchy said, uses such terms as "Satellite" in referring to minority delegates.

The council then continued the debate.

Sentenced Killer Granted Reprieve

Springfield, Ill., March 10—(AP)—Herman Frederick Weber, 24, of Peoria, Ill., doomed to die March 16 for the murder of a Bradley University student, was granted a reprieve today by Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson.

Stevenson delayed the execution date to Aug. 1 to permit the U. S. supreme court to consider the case.

Jury Returns 'Guilty' Verdict For Axis Sally

Washington, March 10—(AP)—Two young Ohio desperadoes sought over three states for a wild west train robbery in the Allegheny mountains were captured by police today in a pawn shop six blocks west of the White House.

One was critically wounded when he went for his gun in an apparent attempt to shoot it out with the officers. His companion, also armed, was taken into custody unhurt. Both quickly confessed, police said.

The men were identified as Luman Ramsdell, 23, a former reformatory inmate, and George Llewellyn Ashton, 21, who likewise had served time. Both are from Youngstown, Ohio.

A copper-jacketed slug from Officer Eldwood Lomax's revolver ripped through Ramsdell's side, missing his heart by about two inches. Hospital physicians said he is not expected to live.

Police Lieutenant John E. Winters reported the pair readily admitted the wild, gun-flourishing hold-up of the Baltimore & Ohio's fast Ambassador express near Martinsburg, W. Va., last night.

The FBI immediately filed train robbery charges against both men. A search of their clothing turned up about $700 in small bills on Ashton, and $290 on Ramsdell.

Terrorized passengers on the train reported they were robbed of about $1,000 in cash, plus some jewelry.

It was learned that another train on the same route, the same day, carried a shipment of several million dollars in currency. If the robbers were looking for big money, they chose the wrong train. The Ambassador didn't even carry a mail car.

Lomax was assisted in the arrest by Pvt. James D. Kennedy, also of the Washington police.

All Washington officers had been alerted that the train robbers might be in the capital. The capture came when Lomax and Kennedy walked into the S. & W. pawnbrokers exchange on Pennsylvania avenue.

They found two men negotiating to buy clothing and a suit case. The policemen noticed that the pair resembled the robbers described by the train passengers, and demanded that Ashton and Ramsdell identify themselves.

Killed Resisting Arrest As Gary Police Crack Down

Gary, Ind., March 10—(AP)—A young Gary negro died today of wounds suffered while resisting arrest as Gary police continued their law enforcement drive.

William J. Palmer, 22, died in a Gary hospital a few hours after he was shot during a struggle with John King, an East Chicago policeman.

Millard T. Mattovina, Gary police chief, said Palmer was reported to have accosted a girl in the negro district and to have fled when the girl fired at him with a gun she was carrying. King pursued and overtook Palmer, the police chief said, but Palmer resisted arrest and was shot during the struggle.

Police visited lodges, veterans' posts and other private clubs in their cleanup campaign, warning custodians and operators to get rid of gambling devices. Mattovina said his officers had visited "every club where we had any reason to believe that slot machines or other gambling devices might be found."

Hears Murders, Suicide Over Phone 3000 Miles Away

New York, March 10—(AP)—The diary of a deeply disturbed husband gave a fairly clear picture today of the triangle gunshot killings that echoed across a transcontinental telephone wire.

Dead were Emory Holt, 35, a merchant marine officer, his pretty, brunette wife, Norma, 34, and the "other man," David Whittaker, 32, an executive in Mrs. Holt's office.

An autopsy bore out police claims that Holt killed his wife and Whittaker last night while his mother-in-law, Mrs. Elsie Thomas, listened in by phone from her home in Hollywood, Calif. Then he shot himself.

Mrs. Thomas heard Holt tell her "I'm sorry for what I am going to do."

Then she heard her daughter plead for mercy.

Finally she heard the shots that snuffed out three lives.

U. S. Delegate Walks Out Of U.N. Economic Council

Lake Success, March 10—(AP)—The United States delegate to the United Nations economic and social council walked out today in protest against a verbal attack by Poland on Lt. Gen. John Hodge, former occupation commander in Korea.

The delegate, Leroy Stinebower, left the council when the president, James Thorne of New Zealand, did not stop a tirade by the Polish delegate, Juliusz Katz-Suchy.

Stinebower, carrying his briefcase and obviously agitated, told reporters Thorne would not stop the insults against Hodge and "so we just walked out."

Stinebower went back to the table after Katz-Suchy finished.

Man Who Drank Hog Cholera Serum Still Feeling Fine

Des Moines, March 10—(AP)—The gent who drank from a bottle of hog cholera virus to prove a point said he was feeling fine today.

"No temperature, no chills," reported Carl J. Stephens, Des Moines attorney. "And I ate a hearty breakfast."

Stephens, spokesman for the Iowa Farm Bureau, started legislators yesterday by taking a couple of swigs from a bottle of the virus. He sought to discount statements of pharmacists that the stuff was dangerous to humans.

The demonstration occurred at a hearing on a bill which the Farm Bureau is supporting in the Iowa legislature.

The measure would permit Farm Bureau subsidiaries to sell hog cholera serum and virus without hiring a pharmacist.

Takes Jury 17 Hours To Decide

Washington, March 10—(AP)—A federal jury today wrote "guilty" to the name of American-born Mildred E. (Axis Sally) Gilaris, branding her a traitor for broadcasting Nazi propaganda during World War II.

The jury deliberated seventeen hours and 20 minutes, with time out overnight for sleep, in reaching its verdict.

The white-haired defendant took the verdict with outward calm. Her face paled and her eyes blinked to fight back the tears, but she stood rigid and made no sound.

Half-Sister Breaks Down
Her half sister, Mrs. Edward R. Herick, of Connecticut, Ohio, who had been at her side throughout the seven-week trial, broke down and wept, covering her face with her hands.

Later, pacing a small ante room and taking fierce puffs on a cigarette, Miss Gilaris told a newsman angrily:

THEY'D BETTER START LEGISLATING

Every Senate filibuster draws a lot of indignant response from press and public and the present one is no exception. There have been lengthy discussions of the unjust, undemocratic and downright ridiculous aspects of this ancient practice.

But some of the early speeches in this filibuster seem worthy of further comment—which is more than can be said of the usual time-killing oratory on such occasions. For these speeches contain opinions of the Senate's function by some of the men who have been there longest.

Their conclusions may surprise some of the voters. Senator George of Georgia held that the Senate's primary function "is not legislation in the strictest sense. Its primary and main function . . . partakes of the nature of conference and negotiation between sovereigns."

Senator Stennis of Mississippi operated in the same rarefied atmosphere. "Shall the Senate abdicate its historic role," he asked, "and become merely another legislative body?" Senator Connally of Texas felt that more debate is needed in the Senate to counteract the propaganda put out by "special groups."

Senator Russell of Georgia said he thought that the Senate was "the last forum of free discussion on earth, the last citadel of individual rights the last hope of the rights of free states, the last refuge of oppressed minorities."

Undoubtedly the sentimental gentlemen from Georgia—and the ditto from Mississippi and Texas—were giving their oratory free rein without too much regard for the literal and ultimate meaning of what they said. Still, they must have been giving an approximation of their true feelings.

But do these senators, so acutely aware of their own importance think that that importance absolves the Senate from the routine of legislation? There is nothing in the Constitution about "conference and negotiation between sovereigns" or a "historic role." There is nothing that defines the Senate as the last best hope of earth, which Mr. Russell seems to think it is.

In fact, the Constitution divides up the job pretty evenly between the House and Senate. The House initiates revenue bills and the Senate approves or rejects treaties. The House impeaches a President and the Senate tries the impeachment. Aside from that their duties are about the same. The House has quite as much constitutional reason to exercise itself from the bourgeois and bothersome chore of legislation as the Senate has.

The voters hire the senators to do a prescribed job. That job does not include conferring and negotiating like sovereigns or conducting a debating society in a vacuum. Most of the members surely realize this.

It seems to us that if the Southern senators in question really want to enhance the dignity of the Senate they might better pack their togas in the attic trunk, try to recover from their attack of inflated occupational ego, knock off their filibustering, and get to their job of legislating.

Col. John T. Taylor, 1726 South East street, a resident of this city since 1939, today was appointed business manager of the Jacksonville State hospital.

The appointment is effective

March 15. The new business manager will succeed Reaugh Jennings, who has held the position for a number of years.

Col. Taylor, who served as a member of General MacArthur's staff in Australia, New Guinea and the Philippines, first came to Jacksonville in 1939, when he served as sub-district commandant of Civilian Conservation Corps camps in this section of Illinois, having about 12 camps under his supervision.

Col. Taylor is a member of the Optimist club, and active in other civic groups.

Hughes was first named to that position. Hayden Walker was appointed by Governor Henry Horner in 1932 and held the position eight years. Reaugh Jennings, the present incumbent, served during the past eight years under the administration of Governor Dwight Green.

Board To Review College Budgets At Sunday Meet

Springfield, Ill., March 10.—(P)—A meeting of the state teachers college board to reconsider operating budgets of Southern Illinois University and four other state colleges has been postponed to Sunday.

Noble J. Puffer, board chairman and state director of registration and education, said the postponement was taken because he was unable to get a quorum of the board members for the meeting scheduled this afternoon.

The board has to decide how to allocate $15,873,000 for 1949-51 operating budgets of Southern and Eastern Illinois State College, Western State College, Illinois Normal University and Northern State Teachers.

Puffer said he plans to propose a reduction in the budgets of the other four schools in order to give more money to Southern. He did not mention any amounts.

CENTRAL ILLINOIS AMATEUR LEAGUE OPENS MAY 1ST

Today's Russian Is A New Man

Moscow —(P)—The traditionally sad, tea-drinking, brooding Russian —of Dostoevsky, Chekov and others —has disappeared from Soviet writing and drama.

Today the typical Russian is an entirely different fellow. He is optimistic, cheerful, hard-working and confident about his future.

He drinks his tea, but he doesn't dream over it. He's never a mystic, but a realist. And he doesn't wear a beard.

The Soviet woman of 1949 has a somewhat longer dress than she did at this time last year, but her skirts are certainly nothing like the models of Paris and Fifth avenue. On cold, windy days many Moscow women still prefer a shawl around the head to a hat, but hats are more in evidence than ever before. One of the greatest departures from the Russian of earlier years is the swing away from mysticism, melancholia and thinking, thinking, thinking and—talking, talking, talking.

Today's Soviet people — on the stage and off — don't spend much time with Gypsy songs and moaning about "Dark Eyes." "Two Guitars" and "Farewell Dinners." Today's youth sing about the better life, the work in the factory and in the field their clubs, the five year plan, the industrious village, the homeland.

Male heroes in the movies and on the stage and in books are often engineers, doctors, scientists, factory workers, directors of plants, soldiers and officers and young communists. The same thing applies to the heroines, with a sprinkling of mothers, trade unionists, office workers and up and coming girls on collective farms.

Britain Plans Festival In 1951

London —(P)—Britain has a comprehensive traffic plan, including transportation by road, rail, water, even by foot, for the "Festival of Britain, 1951," the fair projected for the south bank of the Thames, opposite Victoria Embankment.

The festival, marking the centenary of the Great Exhibition of 1851, will tell the story of British life during a century of progress in work, play, discovery, invention and design.

Provision for financing new traffic arteries and parking facilities are contained in a public works bill submitted in the House of Commons by Alfred Eames, Minister of Transport.

The traffic scheme, which will cost at least $8,000,000 includes new streets, underground passageways, escalators and water buses to the blitzed area on which the exposition will be built.

A new approach to the site will be by foot-bridge across the Thames from Charing Cross. This will be a "Bailey Bridge" project to avoid using new steel.

Parking space will be set aside for 4,000 cars. The bill provides for the acquisition of the land to carry out the schemes. More than 80 families will be rehoused and shopkeepers displaced by the exhibition will be reestablished near the site.

For a salad combination that's different, mix cooked peas (fresh, canned, or quick-frozen) with finely diced celery and mayonnaise or creamy salad dressing; serve on salad greens and garnish with finely shredded carrot.

A pound of fresh green peas will make two to three servings; a pound of fresh snap beans will serve four.

CHICAGO MOTOR CLUB WINTER DRIVING QUIZ

I COULDN'T READ IT BECAUSE IT WAS COVERED WITH ICE AND SNOW!

2. HOW MUCH SHOULD PASSING AND FOLLOWING DISTANCES BE INCREASED ON ICE OR SNOW?

3. WHAT IS WINTER'S SPECIAL THREAT TO YOUR CAR FINISH?

4. IS THIS A VALID EXCUSE FOR MISSING MAJOR TRAFFIC SIGNS?

Answer to Question 1: No. The Chicago Motor Club states that competent drivers learn to identify major traffic signs by their standardized shapes. All stop signs are octagonal (eight-sided). Railroad crossing advance warning signs are round. All diamond-shaped signs are caution signs: "stop ahead," "school zone," and other vital warnings.

Answer to Question 2: At least double normal, the Chicago Motor Club recommends, because of treacherous traction, lost visibility, restricted maneuvering ability, skidding dangers, and stopping distances increased 3 to 12 times. A rough yardstick of sound following distances is to allow 20 feet (about 1 car length) for every 10 miles of speed.

Answer to Question 3: Salt concentrations used to melt snow and ice on streets can seriously damage car finishes. Waxing or frequent washes protect finishes from serious damage.

Answer to Question 4: At least double normal, the Chicago Motor Club recommends, because of treacherous traction, lost visibility, restricted maneuvering ability, skidding dangers, and stopping distances increased 3 to 12 times. A rough yardstick of sound following distances is to allow 20 feet (about 1 car length) for every 10 miles of speed.

Court Refuses To Grant Divorce

A finding for the defendant was returned by Judge L. E. Wilhite in circuit court Wednesday in the divorce suit of Edna Lucille Cantrell against Lloyd G. Cantrell, after evidence of both sides was heard.

In finding Cantrell not guilty of, extreme and repeated cruelty as alleged in the complaint, the court refused to grant a divorce.

A divorce decree was granted to the plaintiff in the suit of Rosella Little against Harold L. Little, whom she charged with desertion. This suit was not contested.

Jay-Cee Circus To Be Presented Here On June 6

Children and charity will share in a day of delight when the Jay-Cee circus hits town on Monday, June 6.

The Jacksonville Junior Chamber of Commerce has contracted for afternoon and evening performances that day in Jacksonville by an organized, major traveling circus, Mills Bros. three ring circus and horse show combined.

Arrangements for the visit by the world's largest and greatest fundraising circus under canvas, and the largest motorized circus in the nation, were announced Thursday by Willard Ranson, president of the Jay-Cees, upon completion of negotiations with H. W. Ahnert, Jr., circus general agent.

The local organization will receive a portion of the proceeds. It will use this money for community welfare.

"Besides raising funds for this campaign," Mr. Ranson said, "we want to make this a 100 per cent Circus Day for all youngsters of the area. We wish to have all underprivileged boys and girls, who otherwise would not have the opportunity to see a major three ring circus, attend the Jay-Cee circus matinee free of charge."

A campaign will be launched shortly whereby tickets will be provided these children through the cooperation of merchants and business men, who will become "Circus Daddies" for the day.

The Junior C. of C. receives the heaviest percentages for its welfare fund campaign from tickets sold prior to Circus Day.

Mills Bros. Circus, which offers a full three ring program of American and new European savdustland features in its own canvas city, plus a choice assemblage of costly, highly-trained horses, is celebrating its 10th jubilee season, climaxing a surge which has seen it advance to front rank in the outdoor show world.

It plays entirely under auspices on its tour of the nation, helping fraternal, civic and social groups to raise charity funds, such as the Jay-Cee's benefit campaign here. It is the nation's only three ring organization under canvas playing sponsored dates exclusively and the only one that never performs on Sundays anywhere.

Many foreign importations, making their initial tours of the United States, will be featured on the 1949 jubilee program of the Jay-Cee circus, a rich mixture of thrills, radiant color, spangleland music, laughter, and all the elements of which a major circus performance is composed.

Pontiac—Division of General Motors

North..South..East..West America likes Pontiac best!

In their own words below, the automotive editors of America's leading newspapers graphically record the nation-wide triumph which the 1949 Pontiac scored on its introduction a few weeks ago. Read what they say. Then come in and see the great new car that has created the greatest public enthusiasm in Pontiac history.

San Francisco: "Pontiac's 'forty niners' shot quickly into popular favor on their initial showing here. Their 'new look' and astonishing low price tags winning immediate approval and rightly so from record crowds because of these two features to say nothing of their mechanical advancement and improved riding qualities."

LEON J. PINKSON, AUTOMOTIVE EDITOR, SAN FRANCISCO CHRONICLE

Detroit: "Public reception of new Pontiac was up to the highest expectations of company's officials. It looks like another good year for the division judging by customers' enthusiasm."

SILVER FREEMAN, AUTOMOTIVE EDITOR, DETROIT TIMES

New York: "Beauty of appearance combined with advanced utility and styling features of Pontiac models drew much attention from big crowds at dealers' showrooms in New York."

BERT PIERCE, AUTOMOTIVE EDITOR, NEW YORK TIMES

Chicago: "Chicago welcomed the new 1949 Pontiac with a 24-gun salute of approval judging by the enthusiastic reception and the long lines crowding dealer showings. The new Pontiac should prove to be one of 1949's biggest highway hits."

MAURICE RODDY, AUTOMOBILE EDITOR, CHICAGO SUN-TIMES

Make that water walk downhill

It doesn't take a "gully-washer" or a "goose drownder" to rob you of your precious topsoil. Bare land, up-and-down-hill row crops, and over-grazed range all invite rain to escape without working for you—and to erode your topsoil away. But sod or cover crops act like a blotter to absorb and hold the growth-giving water. Slopes and hillsides tilted on the contour, with alternating strips of crop-land and grass, save maximum amounts of water, hold erosion to a minimum. Flatter fields may be subsurface-tilled to keep the protective rain-absorbing trash on top. Correct rotations of crops, which include plow-under crops, will help absorb and hold moisture.

You need lots of water. It takes about 200 barrels of water to grow one bushel of corn. That's around 625,000 gallons for every 100 bushels. And most other growing plants also require large amounts of moisture. . . . You can't control the amount of rainfall you get. But you can conserve it, so that every drop does the best possible job of making grass or crops for you.

As farmers and ranchers in every state well know, water has a "split personality." It can be your ally, or a devastating foe. Lashing rains can erode away inches of fertile topsoil in a short time. But it takes nature 300 to 1,000 years to rebuild each lost inch. That's why the control of water is so important in a good land management program. Considerable progress in erosion control has been made in the past ten years. But we've still got a long way to go! Hundreds of millions of productive acres are endangered by erosion and gullying. They're washing away! Only good land management can save our soil and keep America strong. - It will pay you—and all of us—to make that water walk downhill.

New Grass Varieties

by Wilkie Collins, Jr.
Soil Conservation Service
Lincoln, Nebraska

Good pasture is the key to production of more meat, milk and wool, at lower cost. In addition, a good cover of grass protects your soil against wind and water erosion. When you have improved pasture, or range, good livestock and a sound conservation program, you have a profitable combination.

Many new grasses have been developed in recent years. Several of these promise to become real money-makers for livestock men. They out-yield old grasses, give a longer grazing season, and provide better soil protection.

1. Smooth Brome—The Lincoln, Auchinbach and Fisher strains give higher yields, are easier established and withstand summer heat and drought better in the central, eastern and southern brome areas.

2. Intermediate Wheatgrass—A high-yielding, sod-forming cool-season grass that is easier to establish than most varieties. It is highly palatable and does exceptionally well in the central and northern plains and western mountain area.

3. Sand Lovegrass—Highly palatable, especially well adapted to sandy soils.

4. Tall Wheatgrass—A high-yielding cool-season bunchgrass that does better than other grasses under alkaline conditions.

5. Ky-31 Fescue—High-yielding, supplies longer grazing, especially good for southern and south-eastern states.

6. Russian Wild Rye, Blackwell Strain of Switchgrass, Hays Buffalo Grass, Yellow Bluestem and Sweet Sudan are other new or improved grasses for adapted areas.

Grasses usually give higher yields and better quality forage when grown in association with an adapted legume.

Martha Logan's Recipe for

BEEF PLATE WITH HORSERADISH SAUCE

(Yield: 3 to 4 Servings)
1 1/2 pounds beef plate floured
2 tablespoons shortening
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup sliced onions
1/2 cup chopped celery
or celery leaves
1 1/2 cups water

Cut meat into serving pieces and dip in flour. Melt shortening in heavy kettle. Brown meat well on both sides. Add salt, onions, celery, and water. Cover and cook 3 hours. Serve with Horseradish Sauce.

HORSERADISH SAUCE—Melt 2 tsp. butter or margarine in a saucepan, blend in 2 tsp. flour, mixing well. Slowly add 1 cup milk, stirring until well mixed, and thick and smooth. Add 1 tsp. salt, 3 tsp. lemon juice, 1 tsp. sugar, 3/4 cup horseradish. Cook over low heat until thoroughly heated.

A System that Works!

I get riled up when I hear talk of changing our system of government, or our system of doing business, here in America. Sure, there's always room for improvement. But you can improve a house without wrecking the building!

Any system that produces worthwhile results must be a pretty good one. I think our way of doing things has worked out mighty well for Americans.

Here we are—about 6% of the world's population, living on less than 6% of the world's land. Yet, through what I like to call our "three I's"—Initiative, Ingenuity and Industry—we have created the American way of life. We enjoy greater freedoms than the other 94% of the world's people. We have educational opportunities for all . . . schools, colleges, universities, libraries. And 48% of the world's radios. As just one measure of personal comfort and convenience, we have 92% of the world's bathtubs. We have a motor vehicle for every four people. And more than 256,000 miles of paved roads for them to run on.

Most important of all, thanks to your system of agricultural production, we have plenty of food for all of us—and enough to help feed our less fortunate neighbors. Yes, I think it's worth getting riled up in favor of the American System now and again.

Advisory Board Formed For Youth Center At Ashland

Ashland—Mrs. Elmer Beadles of Ashland was elected president of the advisory board of the Ashland Youth Center at an organization meeting held Tuesday evening at the elevator office.

Others chosen were Kenneth Blakenship, vice president; Mrs. Raymond Allen, secretary; and Mrs. Jack Gardner, treasurer.

The board is composed of members of the various organizations in Ashland, appointed in cooperation with Mrs. Raymond Ranes, chairman of the youth conservation committee of the Ashland Woman's club. The purpose of the board is to advise and assist the youth group in its endeavoring to establish a youth center in Ashland.

John Armitage of the Division for Youth and Community Service, State Department of Public Welfare, was present at the meeting and assisted in the organization of the board. He offered suggestions and advice and told how other such boards functioned.

Mrs. Beadles appointed a building committee, comprised of Leo Fitzgerald, Mrs. Lester Edwards and Seth Minters; and a rules committee consisting of E. Y. Johnson, chairman, Rev. Gordon Wood and Mrs. Raymond Ranes.

The teen-age group will appoint similar committees to meet with the committees from the advisory board. The committees will report to the board at the next meeting on March 15.

Members of the youth center group in attendance were the recently-elected officers, Floyd Heron, Joan Lewis, Ann Savage and Betty Ann Yang.

Members of the advisory board are Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Beadles, Mr. and Mrs. Seth Minters, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gardner, Mrs. Lester Edwards, Mrs. Raymond Ranes, Mrs. Harold Farmer, Mrs. Raymond Allen, Leo Fitzgerald, Lynn Fields, E. Y. Johnson, Rev. Gordon Wood, Floyd Nord-siek, Kenneth Blakenship and Charles Aggerth.

The Chilean government has rented them 10,000 hectares of land and is considering their request for 90,000 hectares more. There the Belgians will grow livestock and saw lumber in the virgin forests.

The colony is the result of a visit one of its leaders, Paul de Smet, made to Chile about a year ago. De Smet came to his home in Epiphany, survived the possibilities and chose the site. Now he is back with a co-leader, Gabriel de Halleuz, of Brussels, and 36 other men, women and children.

Some arrived at Punta Arenas on a British ship, others at Buenos Aires on a Belgian ship. They brought everything they need to live independently—a priest, a doctor, a schoolteacher, motor trucks, tractors electric generators, a saw mill, even their household utensils. For there is no town near the site of the new colony.

The Belgians have chosen to settle Lake Buenos Aires which straddles the Chile-Argentine frontier. The site lies in wooded, rainy Aysen province whose 8,808,000 hectares are populated by only about 18,000 persons.

Plan Belgian Colony For Chile

Santiago, Chile—(P)—Chile's lonely but fertile southland is to have a Belgian hamlet of 38 souls.

The Belgians are on their way to their new home in the Murto River valley from the southern tip of Chile and from Argentina, where they arrived some weeks ago. Their overland journey in motor trucks started after they received permission from Buenos Aires to pass through Argentine territory.

The Chilean government has rented them 10,000 hectares of land and is considering their request for 90,000 hectares more. There the Belgians will grow livestock and saw lumber in the virgin forests.

The colony is the result of a visit one of its leaders, Paul de Smet, made to Chile about a year ago. De Smet came to his home in Epiphany, survived the possibilities and chose the site. Now he is back with a co-leader, Gabriel de Halleuz, of Brussels, and 36 other men, women and children.

The Belgians have chosen to settle Lake Buenos Aires which straddles the Chile-Argentine frontier. The site lies in wooded, rainy Aysen province whose 8,808,000 hectares are populated by only about 18,000 persons.

President Gabriel Gonzales is especially anxious to colonize Aysen province. His minister of agriculture, Victor Opat, estimates it could produce a million head of cattle and two million sheep in five or six years. Carlos del Rio, director general of lands and colonization has ordered that every facility possible be given the new Belgian settlers, whose colony may set an example for others.

Beloit Defeats Eastern Illinois In NAIB Tourney

Kansas City, March 10.—(P)—

Beloit (Wis.) college's Big Gold outlasted Eastern Illinois college's Panthers with a 65-64 score tonight to advance to the semi-finals of the National Intercollegiate (NAIB) Basketball tournament.

In the first quarter-final game tonight Regis College of Denver defeated Northwestern Louisiana State 56-51.

Tied, 52-52, with 11 minutes to play, Beloit never lost the lead again although the Illinois team from Charleston knocked the count at 60: all on Neal Hudson's two free throws with five minutes to go.

Substitute George Baptist got a foul and a free throw and Ron Bon-Temps "Sleeper" made it 65-60 for Beloit with three minutes to play.

Johnny Orr, twice an all tournament star for Beloit, and freshman Tom "Tomkat" Katsimpalis, of Illinois split score honors, each with 26 points.

Beloit, eliminated in the quarter finals the last two years, led by a point, 36-35, at the half after 20 minutes of see-saw battling.

ALL GRAINS DECLINE; NEW CROP WHEAT IS HEAVIEST LOSER

Chicago, March 10.—(P)—All grains

slumped on the Board of Trade today, the new crop wheat deliveries losing the most ground. Soybeans and lard also fell.

In part, the decline merely took back the advance scored in late dealings yesterday. But there also was a run of depressing news items, which held buying in check and caused a little selling.

Dispatches from the southwest said terminal and sub-terminal elevators in Missouri, Nebraska, Colorado and Texas were pretty well filled with grain. Start of the Texas-Oklahoma wheat harvest is only about 60 days away. The outlook was for large stocks to be piled on the ground.

In corn, bookings expanded to more than 100,000 bushels. The government was not buying much corn, but traders noted the economic cooperation administration today earmarked $3,148,000 for buying American corn to ship to Ireland.

Soybeans dropped on trade advices the Kansas City office of the Commodity Credit Corporation was no longer interested in acquiring beans. It has been a steady buyer over recent days.

Wheat closed 14-21 lower, May $2.16-1/2; corn was 1-1/2 lower, May $1.32-1/2; oats were 1-1/2 lower, May $1.17-1/2; rye was 3/4 lower, May $1.12-1/2; soybeans were 1/2 to 3 cents lower, March $2.34-2/4, and lard was 15 to 20 cents a hundred pounds lower, March $12.42.

Danville And Kankakee Upset As Sectionals Go Into Finals Tonight

By the Associated Press

Underdog Illinois high school basketball teams upset top-rated Danville, Kankakee, Sterling, Paris and Taylorville Thursday night in sectional tournament semifinals.

Three other favorites squeaked through with only one-point victories.

Danville, the No. 1 ranked club in the latest Associated Press poll of sports writers, was the chief upset victim. It was knocked out by tiny Potomac, a school with only 70 pupils and a district tournament survivor. Potomac won 38-32 with a semi-stall zone defense.

Kankakee had been rated fifth, Sterling sixth, Paris eighth, Monmouth 10th, and Taylorville 11th, but they all bowed out of the 1949 State championship race.

Winners of the Wednesday and Thursday night semifinals will meet for sectional titles Friday night. The sectional winners will move to Champaign next week with the Chicago titlist, for the 16 team final tournament March 17-19.

Danville had been rated No. 2 of the season, behind Elgin, but after Elgin lost three games, Danville moved ahead.

Elgin will play in its own sectional final Friday against Oak Park, Chicago suburban champions who beat Evanston 62-37 Thursday.

Thursday's upsets were the biggest batch yet in the 1949 tournaments.

Potomac ruined Danville's fast break with its slow defense and possession style. Danville usually takes 80 to 90 shots but got only 42 against Potomac, which had its attack sparked by Sonny Remole with 13 points. Potomac, though smaller, out-rebounded Danville and left the Maroons confused, causing them to blow shots and kick away chances.

Kankakee was spilled a second time this season by Joliet's Steelman, 51-46. Kankakee led 26-24 at the half but Joliet ran up a 12 point lead with a minute and 45 seconds to go.

Sterling was knocked out by West Rockford, 40-33, at Rockford's sectional. West thus avenged a 55-52 loss to Sterling earlier in the season. Sterling was held to only four points in the second quarter by West's tight control of the ball. Sterling had won 24 of 25 games.

Paris, long a title threat in the annual Illinois tournaments, was ousted by Robinson at the Effingham sectional, 52 to 47. Paris was a big favorite but was behind 31-15 at the half.

Taylorville, which won the 1943 title, lost to Hillsboro 40-35 at Hillsboro.

Barely getting through to the sectional finals with single point triumphs were Quincy, Ottawa and Pekin.

Quincy beat Rushville 36-35. Ottawans defeated Henry 43-42 and Pekin knocked Peoria Woodruff 50-49.

Johnston City, Nashville, Moine, Morrison and Mt. Vernon came through with victories as expected.

1949 RED CROSS FUND

The work of large American companies who are restoring historic homes and shrines as a part of their advertising programs was told Thursday afternoon by Miss Jeanette Powell when she addressed the Rev. James Caldwell chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution. She complimented her auditors for the important role the D. A. R. has played in the restoration of historic places throughout the nation.

Miss Powell reviewed the educational features of the pictures and articles included in series of commercial advertisements entitled, "This Is Our Heritage," which has acquainted thousands of persons with the thoughts, homes and tools of their ancestors.

Shrines Renew Faith
"The thoughts they sat down and the homes they built reveal the past of our land. Both are inseparable. By seeing old houses we renew our faith in the future of America. Only at such shrines can we light our candles of enduring religion," she said.

Wakefield, the birthplace of George Washington, was rebuilt largely through funds provided through the efforts of a large chain of houses. Fragments of china found in the ashes after Wakefield had been destroyed by fire were placed together and the pattern reproduced. A share of the profits realized from the sale of this particular pattern rebuilt the national shrine.

History And Gingerbread
Miss Powell related another restoration made possible by a large corporation through the sale of a gingerbread mix. Betty Fielding, Washington's sister and the mistress of Kenmore, always served gingerbread to her guests. Today's visitors at the restored home pay a share of maintaining the place by buying a piece of gingerbread and a cup of tea while they study the fireplaces, cupboards and cooking utensils used by the cooks of former days.

"Through advertising these historic places prominent in U. S. history have been restored for the average person to admire, and to learn of America's past," Miss Powell stated.

The regent, Mrs. George E. Baxter, presided. The prayer was offered by the chaplain, Mrs. A. F. Ewert.

Miss Sieber Sings
Mrs. Sarajane Mathews Brown presented the musical section of the program. Miss Charlotte Sieber sang three songs: Zeigener, from Noel Coward's opera, "Bitter Sweet," Malotte's "A Little Song of Life," and "I Am An American."

The soloist was accompanied by Mrs. G. C. Webster.

Miss A. Maybelle Parrott gave a report of the state conference, which closed in Chicago Wednesday.

The regent appointed Mrs. Marion Wilhoit of Jacksonville, Mrs. Winifred Strawn and Mrs. H. E. Funk, both of Waverly, to the nominating committee.

New Member Welcomed
Mrs. Theodore Chapman of Jerseyville was accepted into membership.

Mrs. Mae Collins was the hostess. She was assisted by Mrs. C. Don Ransell, Mrs. Exeter and Mrs. Paul S. Black moved from a table decorated in observance of approaching St. Patrick's Day. The centerpiece was of green and white carnations, fern and green candles.

Miss Hazel Strawn announced that the chapter would sponsor a market on April 15. The chairman will be assisted by Mrs. Baxter, Mrs. Mabel Withee, Mrs. Mae Collins, Mrs. Earl Rexroat, Miss Parrott, Mrs. Black, Mrs. R. I. Willard, Mrs. Maude Fanning and Mrs. John T. Taylor.

Hyperkeratosis Strikes Twelve Farms In Year

Urbana—Hyperkeratosis, the mysterious "X" disease of cattle, has been found on at least 12 Illinois farms since it first appeared in the state early last year. And more than 60 cattle have had the disease.

Dr. C. C. Morrill, University of Illinois College of Veterinary Medicine, says the outbreaks of "X" disease have been about evenly divided between beef and dairy cattle. Both calves and older cattle have been affected.

Some cattle get the disease and recover without going off feed. But most of them stop eating and become weak. When this happens, the cattle are sick from a few weeks to several months, and many of them die.

Dr. Morrill says hyperkeratosis hasn't looked like a major threat to Illinois livestock men generally. But it has been a serious problem on farms where it has appeared.

Nearly 200 applications for government assistance in connection with this work have already been filed with the Morgan county committee. More requests are expected before March 31, the final day for signing a 1949 farm worksheet.

Soil conservationists have long recognized the value of a well-sodded, properly graded grass waterway. It slows the runoff of excess water when a hard rain hits the field and saves much of the soil borne by the water.

Many of the applications received thus far are from the southern part of the county, where there are many rough sections of farmland. Several payment rates are available to assist in the cost of construction of the waterway and the expense of the fertilizers and seeds needed to form a good sod.

Under one plan 75¢ per 1,000 square feet will be paid for shaping, preparing and seeding. Another plan allows 10¢ per cubic yard of earth moved to form the waterway. A combination of these two rates is also provided.

An entirely separate payment provision allows 50% of the normal cost of power machinery and seed required to do the job.

These rates apply only to those units of practice approved by the committee and then completed according to the program specifications. No farm is eligible to participate unless a farm worksheet is signed and placed on file in the county office by March 31.

Morgan Farms Take Loans, Agreements On '48 Corn Crop

Morgan county farmers who wish to secure a government loan on their 1948 corn crop should make application at the county AAA offices early enough to permit an inspection of the crib and the sampling of the moisture content of the grain before the end of the month. County AAA Chairman Wallace T. Hem-brough said Thursday.

"Maximum percentages for moisture will be cut by three points on the first of April. Many cribs of corn which can make requirements now may be too wet to meet the standards after the end of the month," he continued. "The new maximums will be so high that it will be virtually impossible for any 12 foot crib to meet requirements."

The loan rate is $1.42 a bushel. This is considerably higher than the current market price. Elevators were bidding around $1.25 for No. 2 corn Thursday, with a 1 cent discount for each one-half per cent excess moisture.

Loans have already been completed on approximately 200,000 bushels of Morgan corn. About 75 of the 500 applications were turned down due to excess moisture. Fifty-five purchase agreement contracts, amounting to 121,000 bushels have already been completed. Under purchase agreements the producer realizes the loan price for his corn, but he guarantees the grain will grade No. 3 or better at delivery time.

Sudsy Thrill

These three Neapolitan boys are feeling the touch of soap for the first time in their lives—thanks to Brig.-Gen. J. Leslie Kinkaid, right, of New York. Former military governor of Naples, the general returned to Italy, bringing along 4000 cakes of soap for distribution to the needy. Although only a drop in the bucket, the sudsy stuff provided a thrill for grateful Italian youngsters. (Photo by NEA-Acme staff correspondent Albert Blasetti.)

Carnegie Endowment Sees Real Progress Made In 38 Years Of Fighting War

BY SAUL PETT
AP Newsfeatures Writer

New York, March 10.—(P)—An obvious irony hangs over an organization which has been trying for 38 years to avert war in the world.

But despite two world wars, the uneasy armistice in between and the current cold war, the feeling at the Carnegie endowment for international peace is that real progress has been made.

This is the view of greying, 75-year-old Dr. James T. Shotwell, a veteran of international conferences, historian and now acting president of the endowment.

People Takes More Interest

"Before the first world war," he says, "there was no concept for getting rid of war, which until then had been accepted as the final and legitimate instrument of national policy. Then came the league, the various postwar conferences and pacts and, finally, the United Nations."

"True, most of these were negated by war. But they remain milestones on the road to organized peace. We're getting more knowledge all the time of the problems to be solved if we're going to have peace. People talk more about it. For example, the women's clubs. Fifty years ago they used to confine themselves to Browning or Longfellow. Now they nearly always get involved in problems of public welfare or international peace."

See U. N. Best Peace Hope

Asked if he thought the world's immediate prospects leaned toward peace or war, Dr. Shotwell carefully phrased his answer:

"I expect the present tenuous basis of peace will probably continue without fundamental change for some time. The best way to insure peace is through the United Nations. The best way to insure the United Nations is to strengthen it, both by improvement of its techniques and public education on the issues and the nature of the U. N. itself."

These last two objectives present the chief current work of the endowment, which is an entirely unofficial private agency, although many of its leaders have been in government work. Through its many publications, its libraries in Washington and Paris, its arrangements with such organizations as the 787 International Relations club in the U. S.,

the endowment tries to spread the ideals of the U. N.

$400,000 Yearly Budget

The endowment, which has a yearly budget of about $400,000 also seeks ways of improving the U. N.'s efficiency. Dr. Shotwell personally is directing a study of U. N. rules of procedure in the hope of eliminating time wasted on oratory. Shotwell, as an official U. S. Representative at the Paris peace conference in 1919, helped draw up the rules adopted by the old league.

Last year, under the direction of Alger Hiss, the endowment made a study of the U. N. budget, in cooperation with U. N. officials. The findings helped influence the budget on which the international organization is now operating, Dr. Shotwell says.

Hiss, former state department official, became endowment president in 1946 and served actively until Dec. 13, 1948. He then was granted a leave of absence pending outcome of his perjury trial involving charges that he turned over state department information to Whittaker Chambers for transfer to a Soviet espionage ring.

Three Presidents In 38 Years

The endowment has had only three presidents in its 38 years—Elihu Root, former secretary of state, Nicholas Murray Butler, former president of Columbia university, and Hiss. The latter's personal interest at the endowment was to seek ways of improving U. N. administrative procedure.

John Foster Dulles, Republican foreign affairs expert, is chairman of the endowment's board of trustees. Other trustees include Dwight D. Eisenhower; Philip C. Jessup, U. S. Ambassador at large to International Conferences; David Rockefeller; Thomas J. Watson, president of International Business Machines; Philip D. Reed, board chairman of General Electric; Harper Sibley, former president of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce; four corporation lawyers and three university presidents.

Irish-Born Rabbi Visits America

Providence, R.I., March 9.—(AP)—A strapping, six-foot-two Rabbi, the only Irish-born Rabbi in the world, came to Providence today speaking in a gentle brogue of "the old country," meaning Eire.

He is Rabbi Theodore Lewis, born, raised and educated in Dublin. He will serve in America's oldest synagogue, the touro in Newport, while here.

Rabbi Lewis comes from Adelaide road synagogue, the largest in Dublin. It is the only one in the world where a Jewish service as once finished in Gaelic.

There every Saturday Jews say prayers for the Irish state and its president, Sean T. O'Kelly. But on the occasion of O'Kelly's taking over the reins of state, Rabbi Lewis finished his sermon in Gaelic.

The 700 Jews in South Ireland are fervid in their devotion to the "Auld Sod," says Rabbi Lewis.

Germany To Run Own Radio

Berlin—(AP)—The American Military Government has just returned Radio Munich and Radio Frankfurt to the states of Bavaria and Hesse. Radio Bremen and Radio Stuttgart will be released soon.

Under German control these stations will operate under the same rules of objectivity that apply to the radio in the United States. But in Britain they will be owned by the state.

For almost the whole of its 25-year history German broadcasting has been an agency of the central government. For more than half its life and advisers to the Germans.

it was the tool of one party—the Nazis.

Now the states of Bavaria and Hesse have committed themselves to the principle that radio should serve the listeners who buy the sets and not the state or a single group within the state.

They have established by law public radio corporations. These are controlled by radio councils called Rundfunkräte. The councils are elected by economic, social and political groups, such as trade unions, news associations, labor groups, church organizations and political parties.

The day-to-day operation of the stations will be left to people skilled in the various phases of broadcasting.

German employees of both stations will be retained as observers.

Through Lent and every season, Piggly Wiggly has suggestions to help you keep your menus attractive... your family healthy.

This week, we mention the value of Cheese. Use it often! A half pound of Cheddar Cheese provides about as much protein as a pound of meat with moderate amounts of fat and bone. It provides, in addition, calcium and Vitamin A. And, as for cost—you'll find it's economical as well as nutritious!

CHEESE SOUFFLE

2 tablespoons butter dash cayenne pepper
2 tablespoons flour 1/2 lb. aged cheese
3/4 cup hot milk 4 eggs
1/2 teaspoon salt

Make a sauce of the butter, flour, milk and seasonings. When thickened and smooth, add the cut up cheese. Stir till this is melted, then add the egg yolks, which you've beaten. Let this cool. Carefully fold in the egg whites which you've beaten till stiff. Have ready casserole which you've rubbed on the bottom with a bit of butter (skip the side). Pour in the mixture and bake very slowly 275 degrees for 1 1/2 hours.

Naturally, souffles and the like are best served as soon as cooked, but I have actually left this one in the oven for an extra 45 minutes. It's the sauce base that does it.

Jersey Taverns Petition Board To Close Later

Jerseyville—Jersey county taverns outside the jurisdiction of the cities are appealing for a later closing hour for Saturday nights.

Representatives of the tavern owners appeared before the Jersey county board of supervisors at the regular quarterly meeting of the board which convened here at the court house Tuesday.

They stated that they are losing much Saturday night business as a result of the midnight closing regulation due to the fact that their customers must leave at 12 o'clock and go into Madison county to obtain further refreshments. They also argued that many persons did not patronize Jersey county taverns because of the fact that they must leave at midnight.

Following some discussion of the proposal, it was voted to table the proposition until the next meeting of the board in April, to enable supervisors to discuss the proposal with the residents of their respective townships.

Reds Sovietize German Fishing

Berlin—(P)—The Communist program for Sovietizing the economy of Russian-occupied eastern Germany now has reached the fishing industry with the "people's-owned" fishing fleet.

Large sections of the manufacturing industry of the Russian zone "people's owned" trusts after private owners had been dispossessed. This process is still going on at an accelerated pace under the Communist two-year economic plan.

Big and middle-class land owners in the Russian zone were dispossessed three years ago. Their manorhouses are being torn down to provide building materials for peasants' cottages. Where small farmers who got slices of the parcelled-out land couldn't make a go of it—and there are thousands of them—they appear to be likely candidates for collectivization.

And now comes the socialized fishing fleet.

This was announced in the official Socialist Unity (Communist) Party press here.

It reported that at the port of Sassnitz on the Baltic island of Ruegen, the first such fleet was established under the two-year plan.

It starts with twenty cutters, which are to be increased to 200. The other 180 are to be built in "people's-owned" shipyards which once were privately owned.

Lepers Building Observatory

Tokyo—(P)—After eight years, lepers on Nagashima, tiny island in the Inland Sea, are going to get the observatory they want.

The lepers of the colony bought a British-made telescope in the spring of 1941 and planned an astronomical observatory to help spend interminable hours. The war intervened, but they saved the telescope.

When the Japanese astronomer Minoru Honda began his recent series of comet discoveries, the lepers remembered their project and asked his advice.

Most Japanese fear and shun lepers, but Honda went to the island, cleaned the telescope and selected the best hilltop site.

The lepers now have started their building, and Honda says "they may reap substantial rewards" from their stargazing.

India Wants To Make Own Salt

New Delhi—(P)—India hopes to be self-sufficient in salt by the end of 1951—but only if the progress in production is maintained and the transport position gradually improves.

An official committee reported India annually consumes 2,500,000 tons of salt on the basis of 14 pounds per head. But she produced 20 per cent less.

India's production figures are: 1,800,000 tons in 1947 and 2,400,000 do so to get married.

1948. She imported about 50,000 tons of salt from abroad last year.

The committee said India with her tropical climate and 3,000 miles of coastline must be able to produce sufficient at least for herself. She also has to cope with the annual increase of five million to her present population of 325,000,000.

Grated cheese is good mixed with sweet pickle relish and a little mayonnaise or mayonnaise-type salad dressing and used for a sandwich spread.

One airline reports that 75 per cent of their hostesses who resign population of 325,000,000.

POP Goes the QUEEN

By Bob Wade and Bill Miller
© by Bob Wade and Bill Miller
Distributed by NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: John Henry and Sin Conover, in an attempt to solve the murders at the resort where they are vacationing, waylay Mr. Trim, suspecting him to be the killer. After Trim is knocked out, they find a badge in his wallet on which is inscribed "Federal Bureau of Investigation."

XXXIV

TRIM sat on the edge of the car seat and stared down at him. After a while of consideration, he went on. "I'll tell you what I can, but you two have to be frank right back at me. In answer to your question: only incidentally. There's some time up there with Segmon Robottom and—"

"What's he done?" cried Sin. "Nothing yet—that we can prove. He just keeps popping up in key positions. A professional organization one place—a crackpot discussion group somewhere else. The L. A. office—that's Robottom's home town—thinks there's something off-key about him."

"Off-key?"

"Subversive. Undercover." "Gosh," said Sin. "If I'd known that, I'd have really been scared for me."

Trim passed his lips irritably at the interruption. "Nothing had come of my work when I ran across this lost treasure business. Okay—that's not by jurisdiction—finders-keepers and so forth. The two murders aren't my jurisdiction, either. Just a minute!" He held up a small hand to cut off the Conovers' questions. "I do come into it sideways. If Robottom finds the Queen, the money's his. But the government is interested if he's going to back Robottom in some subversive activity with that money."

John Henry began to pace back and forth, plucking thoughtfully at his lower lip. "Then Robottom could be Jones?"

"Oh, he could be," admitted Trim. "But the two dead bodies belong to Lieutenant Lay—not me."

I'm here to cinch a subversion case. All I know about your Jones or Joneses is that a Barselou employee—Anglin—sent a wire to them yesterday morning telling them to meet him at the Las Dunas Hotel. He started to slide under the steering wheel. "I'm sorry I won't be able to run you back, but from what you've told me, I better get a move on."

Sin looked at the agent quizzically. "What are you going to do now, Mr. Trim? Or is it a secret?"

"Well," Trim squinted at the moon-painted mesquite. "I'm going out and wait for Barselou at his ranch. Now that you've run this galleon rumor to earth for me, I might as well warn him about registry and tax and some other details. Then it'll be his move if he wants to play with Robottom."

"Mr. Trim," said Sin earnestly, "look—wouldn't you like to follow Barselou and Jones and Robottom or whoever it is to the Queen? That way you could—"

"What are you talking about, Sin?" John Henry interrupted. "I thought you—"

"It has its points," Trim mused. "I might find out pretty definitely about the subversion angle. It would certainly catch Robottom off base." He laughed harshly. "But, unfortunately, Mrs. Conover—I don't know the way. All I can do is wait at the ranch for one or both of them to come back."

"That's it exactly," said Sin, jumping up and down with excitement. "Sin, talk sense," John Henry insisted angrily.

"Johnny, don't you see? We know where to start—Walking Skull."

"What do you mean we know where to start? Where's Walking Skull?"

"Never mind," said Trim quietly. "I know where he is. Let her talk."

"And we've got a third copy of the combination—me." Sin pointed a proud forefinger at herself.

John Henry was disgusted. "Don't be silly. You've said it once. Now it's gone. Why should that list of numbers stick with you?"

"Because," Sin explained slowly and deliberately, "they don't make sense!"

"SHE hasn't had much to eat," her husband said to Trim. "No, Johnny! Just to prove it. Here's the first two directions. R dash one. L dash three." Her words tumbled over one another getting out of her mouth. "I know I can remember it, Johnny. It just isn't a silly old quotation or anything—it doesn't have any order and I can remember it perfectly. I knew it when I recited it for you back at the ranch, but I didn't want to tell you then for fear it would spoil things or you'd want to go after the Queen by yourself later on. But now we've got help. And, Johnny, honest—I can't get the darn thing out of my head!"

"It'd be too dangerous for you, Sin. I don't want you—"

She put her arms around him. "I don't want to go to jail and I don't want you to, either. This way we won't have to, honey. Because Jones will be at the Queen."

John Henry felt the tempting excitement begin to bubble inside him again. "I wouldn't mind running into the guy responsible for all this, at that. I feel I owe him something."

Triumphantly, Sin turned to the wizened agent in the sedan. "There! Now how about it, Mr. Trim? What do you say?"

Trim didn't say anything for a moment. He opened the glove compartment and took out a heavy service automatic. Leaning back in the car, he checked the magazine under the dash light. When he came to view again, he showed the gun at John Henry, butt foremost.

He said, "Stick close to your wife then, and come along. This may be the bag of the year or it may be a wild-goose chase. I guarantee it won't be any picnic."

Families And Homes Get Smaller

New York—(P)—American homes, like the families they house, are getting smaller, according to a Title Council of America report on post-war home building trends.

The size of the American family dropped from 3.7 persons in 1940 to 3.5 persons in 1948. Size of the average home decreased accordingly, the report says. Most popular new postwar dwelling is the two-bedroom unit suitable for a family of two to four persons. This coincides with Department of Commerce statistics that show 31.3 per cent of American families consisting of two persons and 25.6 consisting of three.

One reason for the decrease in dwelling sizes is housewives' insistence on compact homes that can be run easily and with a minimum of work hours, according to the Council. Home makers also want such "wife safers" as dinettes, smaller streamlined kitchens, more easily cleaned floor and wall coverings such as tile, and electric dish washers in their homes.

With smaller families and fewer children more American women are combining careers with home life. In 1948, there were about 2,400,000 more married women than single women in the labor force. Eight years ago, single female workers outnumbered working wives by 1,700,000. Today's housewife-career girl, able to devote only part time to household management, adds to the demand for smaller, more easily managed dwellings.

Venice Has Pigeon Dispute

Venice—(P)—Venice is stirred up about the municipal action against pigeons of St. Mark's Square, beloved alike by tourists and Venetians. Their daily ration of 35 pounds of city corn, the town council has decided, will be cut down to 22 pounds.

The city's fine arts division also stated that the pigeons were spoiling the roofs of St. Mark's basilica and has put sharp steel edges on one of the favorite resting places.

It is calculated here that the pigeons — a Venetian landmark — number about 2,000. Since the war many have become accustomed to seek their food elsewhere and do not rely entirely on municipal corn. Kind Venetians who love the pigeons put food for them in their gardens or on window sills.

Protests are coming from pigeon lovers against the "sanctions" imposed by the city fathers. "Gazzetta Sera" published an angry letter from a Venetian, "against this inhuman treatment to the symbols of peace." But the town council has not budged. The pigeons will get short rations from now on.
